‘Can edit Approval Workflows’ and ‘Can view the audit log of Approval Workflows’ permissions have been added under Sentral Setup | Manage Permissions | Purchase Orders | Setup. Both permissions are denied by default for all access levels (except for Administrators).
 - If ‘Can edit Approval Workflows’ is granted, an Edit button appears on the Setup Purchase Orders | Approval Workflows screen. If this permission is denied, the Edit button does not appear.
 - If ‘Can view the audit log of Approval Workflows’ is granted, a ‘View Approval Workflow History’ button appears on the Edit Approval Workflow screen. If this permission is denied, the ‘View Approval Workflow History’ button does not appear. Clicking the ‘View Approval Workflow History’ button displays the history of changes to the approval workflow. Note that this history will only include changes made to the approval workflow since the release of this update.

- Validation improvements when saving changes to a purchase order

The current status of a purchase order will be checked before changes are applied to its details or status. For example, if one user starts to edit a Pending purchase order than another user moves the same purchase order to Awaiting Approval before the first user has saved their changes, the system will prevent the first user from saving their changes, as the updated status of the purchase order does not allow it.

- Incorrect formatting occurred on letters when using the italic tag from the toolbar
- Changing a suspension that has setting 'Update attendance' set to yes, to a formal caution that has that setting set to no was not updating attendance correctly
